UP TO $3,500 TO-DAY

Subscriptions to Red Cross Funds Coming in Slowly—Campaign Will End Monday Night.

Over thirty-five hundred dollars had been subscribed toward the Red Cross campaign in Alexandria up to this morning. The work will be brought to a close on Monday night next by which time it is hoped that every person in the city will have had their name placed on the roll in aid of this work of mercy.

Miss Esther Brookes, 701 Prince street, this city, chairman of the Alexandria Chapter of the American Red Cross, is in receipt of the following from Mr. Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council:

"The question is being raised by some as to the amount of money which is going to be required for overhead expenses in the carrying out of this work of the Red Cross by the War Council. Obviously it is impossible to foretell the expense of operation at the National Headquarters in the conduct of this work as there are so many factors as yet undetermined. I of course cannot guarantee it but I am perfectly willing to hazard the prediction that not more than one per cent of the money to be expended by the War Council will be absorbed in administration expenses. If it will serve a purpose you may quote me to this effect."

Do not wait to be called on. See some one of the committees and contribute your share, so that Alexandria may take its proper place in the list of cities of this size. Every family in town should be on the rolls before the campaign ends.

Col. Roosevelt has thrown the weight of his influence into the campaign. He says: "The most important task before us is to get the largest possible number of effective troops at the front at the earliest possible moment. Second only in importance to this is to further the work of the Red Cross in providing for the care of those troops, and also in giving aid to our hard pressed and war-worn allies. The Red Cross is doing this in a masterly fashion under a great and efficient organization.

"I most earnestly bespeak the fullest support for it from every man and woman in the United States Let each give the utmost amount possible according to his or her ability to help the soldiers at the front and all who suffer bodily ill because of the war."

TRIAL AT BIG STONE GAP

McCoy and Phipps Will Be Arraigned On Treason Charge at August Term.

Roanoke, Va., June 22.—After being arraigned in the United States District Court here yesterday on charges of treason, the court decided to try William V. McCoy and J. W. Phipps, who were arrested several weeks ago, near St. Paul, at the August term of court at Big Stone Gap. The prisoners were remanded to jail here until they secured bondsmen. Calvin McCoy, seventeen years old, son of William V. McCoy, was held as a witness. It is understood that he will not be indicted for his alleged activities in connection with the alleged plot bared by the Department of Justice operatives, as it is believed that he merely attempted to formulate plans to rescue his father from jail here. McCoy and Phipps sat silent throughout the proceedings of the court.

Fairfax County Subscribes Heavily.

The subscription of Fairfax county to the Liberty Loan amounted to $45,650, of which $28,800 was taken through the bank of Fairfax, $9,100 through the bank of Herndon and $7,700 through the Falls Church Bank. It is estimated that fully a third more was placed by government employees and others residing in Fairfax county, through Washington banks, so that the total amount taken by the people of Fairfax will total close to $70,000.

TWO RECRUITS TODAY

Recruiting Expected to Take a Jump From Now on—No Recruits Secured Yesterday.

An exhibition of how a soldier carries his home with him in the field was given last night at the recruiting office of Company G, First Virginia Regiment, at 530 King street, in an effort to inspire recruiting. Tonight a drill will be held and Saturday the officers will make an effort to stage a sham battle.

Two more recruits enlisted in the company today, bringing the total up to 101 men.

The officers of the Light Infantry were a little disappointed yesterday, the second day of the recruiting campaign, because there was not a single recruit enlisted, despite the fact that but one more was needed to make the number an even 100.

Throughout the country, National Guard recruiting offices have had but little work to do since registration day, as enlisting of new men, which had been going along at top speed up until that time, suddenly slackened. Company G's officers expect an increase in recruiting from now on, however.

The War Department announced the sites of six camps for the Southeastern division of the National Guard yesterday. The camps will be located at Greenville and Spartansburg, S. C., Macon and Augusta, Ga., and Anniston and Montgomery, Ala. Three more camps are to be selected, and the selection, according to plans of the general staff, should have been made more than two weeks ago.

Plans for the guardsmen at present call for a short training period at the various camps and then embarkation at the nearest port on the seaboard for Europe. Within a few months, it is expected that nearly every Atlantic seaport will have troops pouring out to cross the ocean. The entire National Guard will be mustered into federal service by August 5, according to the President's proclamation.

UP POLE TO DEATH IN TAG

Boys' Game Grows Reckless as it Centres in the Wires.

Scranton, Pa., June 22.—While playing tag in the vicinity of their homes, Patrick Cavanaugh, 16, and Joseph Timlin, 12, both of Keyser avenue, were electrocuted yesterday The youngsters were chasing one another, and to evade being tagged, young Timlin climbed up a pole carrying the high voltage wires of the Lacakawanna Company; Cavanaugh climbed up after him, and Timlin, not to be caught, went up into the wires.

Cavanaugh reached him and grasped him by the foot just as he touched a wire carrying 4000 volts. Timlin burned to death on top of the wires, but Cavanaugh was thrown to the ground by the shock.

LIGHTNING AND WIRE FATAL.

Two Killed by Bolt From Rail, One Dying of Electric Shock.

Pottsville, Pa., June 22.—Two men lost their lives and one man was probably fatally shocked in the Panther Creek Valley during a heavy storm yesterday. At the Loomis stripping, near Lansford, a bolt of lightning struck a rail, killing George Sisko and seriously injuring Andrew Balloon as they were running along a mine railroad for shelter.

At No. 1 colliery of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, Andrew Todd, assistant electrical engineer, touched a wire while making repairs and was killed.

Held in Jail.

Raymond Williams, Robert Sanderson and George Simmons, three young white men, claiming Richmond as their home, are being held in the Dinwiddie county jail awaiting grand jury action upon the charge of assaulting Lizzie Sampson, said to be a married woman of South Richmond. The men were arrested just west of the Petersburg corporate limits early Wednesday morning when many citizens on upper Halifax street were awakened by the screams of the woman being taken through the city in an automobile.

In the year thirty girls have disappeared from their homes in Washington as completely as if the earth had swallowed them. Month after month these fathers and mothers proceed to the police station with the question that is always answered with a shake of the head, And these thirty are white girls. More than eighty colored girls, all between 15 and 25, disappeared in the last year. Ellen Virginia Toney, of Richmond, Va., is one of the females who mysteriously disappeared, and two are from Alexandria—Marie Lowe, 19 years old, and Hattie Anderson, 32 years old.

Mrs William J. Morton and children left this morning to spend the summer in Fredericksburg, Va.

Rev. Preston A. Cave, pastor of the H Street Christian Church of Washington, will preach and conduct the communion service at the Christian mission, 1315 King street, Sunday afternoon, at 3:30.

J. T. Preston, Jr., and Louie G. Davis, both of this city, who are stationed at Quantico with United States Marine hospital corps, were instrumental in saving the life of a comrade in the Potomac river there yesterday. Mrs Davis, Dr. Strott and a man named Leffler started to swim from the wharf to the bath house, a distance of some two hundred yards or more. After going about half the distance Leffler became exhausted and was sinking when Davis and Dr. Strott got to him and called for help. Mr. Preston had recently been vaccinated and could not go into the water, but told them he would meet them at the bath house and started walking in that direction. Hearing their cries for assistance he ran to the wharf, cut a motor boat loose, jumped in and ran out to them. Leffler was unconscious by that time and the other two men much exhausted. Leffler was taken into the boat and afterward the others and all carried ashore. It was necessary to work over Leffler about half an hour before he could be restored to consciousness. Preston and Davis are congratulating themselves upon having been able to be among the first of the hospital corps to save life at that station.

WILL INVADE GERMANY.

Carrying Fight Into the Kaiser's Territory Through Air is Planned.

Invasion of Germany carrying of the fight into the kaiser's territory through the air—with success deemed certain by allied war heads, is the plan of the allies, it became officially known here yesterday. Chieftains of visiting war commissions insist the plan will bring complete victory nearer by many months, provided the national defense council's aircraft production board program goes through. That program calls for 4,000 American air machines for the fighting front by April and 10,000 by August.

Lieutenant Amaury de la Grange, noted French air fighter, has made this revelation. And he emphasized with what importance the allied general staffs regard America's capabilities in furnishing the "air preponderance" that he is convinced will make possible shattering of the Teuton battle lines. "Nothing is impossible if we allies get and hold mastery of the air," Lieutenant de la Grange said convincingly. "Berlin is even open to us. Let America contribute as her biggest share toward re-establishment of democracy, the air preponderance, as she can do, and then, indeed, will German 'Divine right' rulers call for a real peace instead of a pseudo peace.

"With sufficient machines we fighting men—yours and ours—will render impotent the huge guns of Heligoland and make possible the storming of that fortress by your battle fleet and ours. Anything is possible, if you but furnish the preponderance in the air."

CONSERVATION OF FOOD.

State Council of Defense Endeavoring to Prevent Waste.

Richmond, Va., June 22.—Through the ministers and the women of Virginia, the State Council of Defense is trying to bring home to the people of the State a realization of what food really means, and what food conservation may accomplish toward winning the war.

Every minister in Virginia will be asked to preach on the Conservation of Food on Sunday, July 1st.

Herbert C. Hoover, director of the food conservation movement in the United States, has called the attention of the Council to several phases of the food situation in a stirring letter sent through Bishop Collins Denny, a member of that body.

A striking point made by Mr. Hoover is that the waste of a single slice of bread each day in every home means the daily waste of a million loaves of bread.

WIRELESS ON EACH SOLDIER

Marconi Makes Impossible Cutting Of Communication.

Pittsburgh June 22.—While thousands of Pittsburghers were cheering the Italian War Commission Tuesday afternoon, the American military officers heard Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, and one of the members of the commission describe one of his most recent inventions—a wireless outfit that weighs only 12 pounds, can be operated by one hand and has a transmission area of several miles.

"It took some time to perfect the 'set', but it is very successful," he said. "It is being used by the Italian army and has been instrumental, I'm told, in frustrating a great many surprse attacks, so-called, by the Austrians. Perhaps I shall be able to produce something else worth while before the war is over."

One of the American officers said: "It's a most remarkable device. It means that the destruction by the enemy of lines of communication between an outpost brigade headquarters will be practically impossible in the future. The invention means as much to the military world as wireless telegraphy did to the commercial world. It may even make such things as signal corps unnecessary."

Circus Tomorrow.

Tomorrow is circus day! The show will begin at 3 p. m., and the performance promises to be one of the best ever given in the city. It is probable that the tent will be packed long before the hour named. Any one of the attractions will be well worth the price of admission, 25 cents, but think of the treat in store, a "Wild West" performance, baby show, band of English gypsies, dancers and clowns, ponies for the little ones to enjoy a ride, and a number of other features. The ladies, who are untiring in their efforts to make the affair a success, hope to realize a substantial amount towards procuring more commodious quarters for the boy scouts and a comfortable, attractive rest and reading room for the soldiers who visit the city during their furlough from the camp duties.

Seventeen of the soldiers on the camp near Union Station, were transferred to Nsabsco, Va., to start the viaduct.

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH

Delivers Address to Soldiers at St. Asaph Military Camp—Given Cordial Greeting by Five Hundred Men.

William Jennings Bryan delivered a most excellent address before an audience of five hundred soldiers at the St. Asaph military camp last night in the interest of the Young Men's Christian Association, which is about to be opened there. A large tent had been erected in which to hold the meeting and upon his arrival the entire body of soldiers arose and greeted the ex-secretary of state with loud hand clapping. Mr. Bryan was visibly affected and responded very cordially.

While awaiting the arrival of Colonel McCloskey, the Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, spoke with reference to the work being done in the interest of the soldiers and extended the hospitalities of the reading rooms at the Westminster building and the churches of the city as well to the men in the camp.

Mr. C. W. Hardy, of Springfield, Mass., who will be in charge of the Y. M. C. A. at St. Asaph, was also introduced to the men and made a brief address. Religious services will be held there twice a week.

Mr. Bryan was then introduced, spoke with much feeling and was listened to with the closest attention. He counselled the men to make the best possible use of their time, when not on duty, by the readng of good books and thus better fitting themselves for the duties of life after they leave the army and enter other vocations later on. His address was replete with practical illustrations prompting to the better life here as well as hereafter. Many went up and took him by the hand and thanked him at the close of the meeting.

In referring to his military experience while Colonel of a Nebraska regiment nineteen years ago, Mr. Bryan spoke of the song, "Throw Out the Life Line," which was sung at a meeting of the regiment, just before it left home to go into camp at the seaside, and of his having purchased a long rope which he gave to the boys to take along with them to be used in case of emergency and which later proved instrumental in saving the life of one of the men who came near being drowned. Continuing he said: "A thought is sometimes a life line, and I have been thinking what thought I might give you tonight. An idea expressed in words has revolutionized a community, a state—a world. I might talk to you about liquor drinking, but that is hardly necessary. I had as fine a regiment of men as was ever mustered in and I was opposed to the canteen. I did not want to see liquor put before those fine young men. The law today forbids the sale of it to a man in uniform and I think it might be wise to compel every one to wear a uniform and in that way do away entirely with the liquor business.

May I urge upon you the need of reading good books. You cannot afford to read bad ones. And while I would like to see all train their brains properly I am most interested in the proper training of your hearts. The government will furnish you with clothes, food and exercise and these good people of the Y. M. C. A. will gladly supply the books and opportunities for your religious training. It has an army of a million men which has for its one purpose the saving of the souls of men. I want you boys to have the right ideals. If I could know your ideal to night I could tell you in what estimation you would be held by the community in which you live twenty-five years from now. An ideal means the difference between success and failure. I appeal to you to live Christian lives in order that your lives shall be more beautiful. May I throw out to you this one thought—that which dominates all religion—"Thou shalt shalt have no other Gods before Me."

Marta, the role played by Miss Fischer in the Devil's Assistant at the Surprise tonight is a screen delineation of the battle of a beautiful woman against the evil of morphine used as a tool in the hands of false friends and a disappointed suitor. She all but loses her fight, passing through the "Valley of the Shadow" into a final happiness.

JUVENILE DELINQUENT

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Enters House and Commits Larceny—Also Cooks and Eats Dinner.

Most of the time of the Police Court this morning was consumed in investigating a serious charge against a fourteen-year-old white boy. It was alleged that he entered a house in the northwestern section of the city, ransacked drawers, etc., in search of plunder; and stole several small articles—a safety razor, a gold chain, a dime savings bank containing about fifty cents, and an old-fashioned razor. The members of the family being away at the time, he made himself at home, and opening the refrigerator took out such edibles as suited his taste, lighted an oil stove and prepared a meal which he disposed of. The house was entered last Monday, and after the identity of the youth had been established, Officer Rawlett arrested the youngster. He wa sbrought before the Police Court this morning when he acknowledged he was guilty as charged. He had been at work at the glass works this week, where he earned $1.25 a day. In accordance with the present laws applying to juveniles, justices being required to do everything possible to reclaim youngsters who go astray, Justice Caton, after delivering an admonition to the offender, turned him over to his mother who is to see that he returns to work and pays for the articles still missing. He was accordingly paroled with the understanding that should he be guilty of any other offense he will be rearrested and sent to the reform school.

Arthur Grigsby, colored, charged with entering the home of Morris Bennett and stealing a gold watch and chain, was held for the action of the grand jury.

Heaton Lunsford, charged with being drunk, was fined $5.

LIFE SAVERS ORGANIZE.

Organization Perfected for Unit of Independent Life Saving Corps by Old Dominion Boat Club.

Plans have been completed and an organization perfected for the establishment of a unit of the Independent Life Saving Corps, of the American Red Cross, in this city. At a largely attended meeting of the Old Dominion Boat Club last night, George R. Dickson, president of the life saving organization for the District of Columbia, spoke on the formation of such a unit and the benefits to be derived from its establishment in this city.

Nineteen members of the boat club joined last night as charter members of the unit of the Independent Life Saving Corps, which will be known as the Alexandria unit. The unit will be chartered from the American Red Cross, and will be under the jurisdiction of the Alexandria chapter of the Red Cross.

Organization took place last night with the election of the following officers: James T. Preston, president; John L. Curtin, vice president; C. P. McKenna, secretary treasurer; Dr. Edward A. Gorman, medical officer; O. Ashby Reardon, captain; Carroll Pierce, Jr., and A. J. Pohl, Jr., mates. Mr. Dickson will be the instructor of the unit until sufficient progress is acquired by the individual members.

The plan of the organization in this city is to have two squads of ten members each, headed by the two mates, who will be under the captain. The first instruction will be given by Mr. Dickson Sunday when he will be at the Boat Club for the purpose of demonstrating different methods of breaking "grips" obtained by drowning persons on their would-be rescuers. Mr. Dickson will also show how to carry drowning subjects through the water. He is an expert swimmer, ranking among the very best in the Capital city.

The standard uniform of the Independent Life Saving Corps of America will be adopted, and badges of different rank will be awarded to those members who pass the prescribed tests from time to time in different points of the life saver's code.

SCENES AT WHITE HOUSE

The excitement at the White House during the past two days, resulting from the appearance at that point of unreasonable and frantic woman suffragists with banners bearing insolent references to President Wilson and the country he represents, has caused general disgust, not only among people who have ever been adverse to granting franchise to women, but among others who were disposed to investigate the claims of would-be female voters. The riotous proceedings which have been precipitated by these misguided women at the executive mansion in the capital city of the country makes it imperative upon the part of the police department to bring such procedures to an end without further delay.

The United States is now passing through the most trying ordeal in its history. There is no time to listen to long-haired men nor short-haired females who are often at the head of movements akin to that which is being championed in Washington at present. The country is at war with one of the most powerful nations of the earth—an autocracy which not only denies the rights of men, but which would not for a moment listen to suggestions from woman suffragists. The latter at this critical time should, in their different spheres, unite with the men of the country in defending the Declaration of Independence, not in attempts to discredit our country with Russia, which nation we are endeavoring to keep in line in the common war against the "mailed fist," which would crush the liberties of men and women alike.

Much can be said in favor of woman suffrage and much can be produced to controvert the arguments. It is generally believed that woman suffragans aided no little in containing Mr. Wilson in the White House at the last election, they being convinced he would not involve the United States in war if he could possibly avoid it. After having helped to put him there, it is unseemly for them to attempt to minimize his work at this critical time in our history.

The Washington papers are incensed at the scenes which have occurred incensed can only be divided thus: at the White House during the past forty-eight hours. One of them says:

"Emma Goldman at her worst never dared to take such liberties with the law of the land. The militants have insulted and dishonored the nation from which they ask the ballot. Logic and expostulation fall on deaf ears, so far as they are concerned; they want to be jailed, they would glory in forcible feeding, and would hail with joy the chance to attract the halo of a cheap martydom.

"They ought to be suppressed. The pickets ought to be driven away from the White House gates."

Another paper of the national capital suggests that this country is at war today, and the banner that the women's party persists in flaunting is deliberately designed to weaken the national cause as a means of promoting a relatively minor interest by a particular method.

THE DUAL MONARCHY

They have been having a pleasant time in the Austrian Reichsteath. A Polish deputy complained that the Germans had hanged 30,000 Poles. Then a German deputy retorted that the rope had been too sparingly used; that all the Poles should have been hanged. At once the whole body of Slavic deputies started for the candid Pan-German, but lynching was prevented and the session was adjourned.

By way of expressing their opinion of their German colleagues all the Polish deputies refused to vote the war credits. The other Slavic deputies had already refused. This left the Ministry with no majority, and it resigned. The incident is of more importance than driving the Germans back 600 yards along a front of 2200 yards.

The Philadelphia Record in commenting upon present conditions in Austria-Hungary says the Dual Monarchy has not gone to pieces, as was fondly anticipated by the allies early in the war, but this is only because the German army dominates Austria-Hungary. It is not because there is more cohesion than was supposed between the discordant elements.

Austria, with less than 25 per cent. of Teutonic population, precipitated the war in the interest of Teutonism against Slavism. In this it was backed, or egged on, or controlled, by Germany, which had more interest in the Teutonic domination of the Balkans than Austria had. The latter had appropriated Bosnia and Herzegovina, in violation of that scrap of paper known as the Treaty of Berlin, and while it desired Salonika, it did not absolutely need it because it had good ports on the Adriatic, and the Danube is open to all nations.

But the Kaiser and the Pan-Germans needed Teutonic Balkans in order to connect with Turkey and provide that Hamburg-to-the-Persian-Gulf line. So the Slav subjects of Austria have been fighting for three years to establish Teutonism in ascendancy over Slavism.

CASE OF J. C. UNDERWOOD

On Sunday afternoon the judge of the United States Court, Underwood, "preached" to a miscellaneous crowd over Hunnicutt's office, a "sermon" which, for abuse of Southern people and Southern institutions, is only excelled by his famous charge to the grand jury published to the world a few months ago. The judge took for his "text" the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth verses of the twenty-fourth chapter of Acts, and based thereon a most blasphemous harangue, unworthy of publication in any respectable journal, the greater part of it consisting of slanderous charges against the ministers of the Gospel in the South. His assertion that the Methodists of the North and South are as far apart as is heaven and hell is just one sample of his villianous tirade. (Richmond Times-Dispatch, June 20, 1867).

The writer has often regretted that he failed to keep a scrap book with notes during the four-years' civil war and the reconstruction days which followed. Such a collection would have afforded material for an interesting book—that is interesting to Alexandrians still living who were cotemporaneous with the events, thrilling and ridiculous as were many. Having, however, but few clippings and being compelled to rely upon memory while in the evening of life, the reminiscences occasionally reproduced in the Gazette are not as satisfactory as they might be.

The case of John C. Underwood affords a text for a chapter in such a book. He was born in New York state, and immigrated to Fauquier county, Va., years before the civil war, and for a time taught school. Among his scholars was Miss Maria Jackson, said to have been a relative of Thomas Jonathan (Stonewall) Jackson. He subsequently married this lady. Underwood was a pronounced anti-slavery man, and after the election of Abraham Lincoln and the stirring events that followed Fauquier county, then regarded as the South Carolina of Virginia, became too hot for Underwood, and he removed with his family to Alexandria. Being a pronounced union man, and a northern man also, he secured the position of judge of the United States Court for this district.

Congress had passed an act by which all abandoned property of persons who had gone south should be confiscated and sold at public auction to the highest bidder. Among the houses sold under this law was the three-story brick residence adjoining the postoffice on the side west side of St. Asaph street. This was the property of the late William H. McVeigh, a prominent Alexandria merchant in ante bellum days. Underwood used this house as his residence. At the close of the war the original owner appeared and resorted to every known legal device to oust Underwood. Suit followed suit, appeals were heard and opinions delivered first by one court and then another, until the readers of the Gazette grew as tired of the suit of McVeigh vs. Underwood as that of Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce.

According to the law, at the death of the original owner of confiscated property it reverted to the heirs of the deceased, and Underwood determined to live in the house as long as McVeigh remained alive.

One day McVeigh and Underwood met on a street in Richmond. When the former saw his adversary he attacked him, but as both were old men, neither in a physical condition to inflict injury upon the other, the affair resolved itself into a wallowing match until some parties appeared and brought the "mill" to a close.

During the seventies Underwood retired from the judgship, and he was succeeded by the late R. W. Hughes. After serving a certain nuumber of years United States Judges were allowed to retire on pay, and Underwood took advantage of this provision.

About the time the present City Hall was erected in 1873 Underwood was sent to the Board of Aldermen from the Fourth ward then the "black belt" of this city. His colleague was the late John A. Seaton, a negro of Herculean physique. Underwood took but little interest in the proceedings of the Aldermen, although he was a regular attendant of the meetings. He seldom rose to address the chair, and we have no recollection of him ever introducing a measure.

On one occasion he rose and stated that he had a few days before enjoyed a conversation with the late Henry A. Wise. The latter at that time entertained conservative ideas concerning reconstruction. Underwood presented a resolution inviting the former Governor of Virginia to deliver an address in Alexandria. It was adopted by the Aldermen, but when it was read in the Common Council a member of waggish instincts moved an amendment—that Doctor Mary Walker be also invited to speak. This turned the matter into a laugh and the resolution failed of adoption in the lower board.

There is an end of all things. McVeigh finally died and Underwood moved to Washington, where he later paid the debt of nature. Robert Hopkins, an old and well-known colored resident, now in the sere and yellow leaf, was for many years Underwood's coachman.

SUNK BY U. S. WARSHIP

U-Boat Rammed, Then Secret Device is Operated.

Base of the American Navy Flotilla in England, June 22.—A German submarine was rammed and sunk by an American destroyer after a German born American bluejacket had spied out the underwater craft, according to the statement of the crew of a certain American sea watchdog which returned to port yesterday.

This is the first submarine, the word of whose sinking has been reported by crews of the American patrol flotilla.

The destroyer in question was cruising through a calm sea. Directly ahead the lookout sighted a periscope. The submarine to which it was attached almost immediately submerged. By that time the destroyer was so close to the spot where the periscope had showed that its guns could not be depressed sufficiently to fire. Every member of the destroyer's crew crowded the rails, eagerly scanning the water for the subsurface shadow which would reveal the enemy craft.

In the midst of this eager watch, a German-born lookout in the crow's nest shouted:

"There she is pointing directly alongside the destroyer."

The American commander instantly swung his ship and those on board declared they felt the impact of a collision.

Even if the German submarine was not then sunk, it was said "that another antisubmarine device" which was immediately brought into play by the American destroyer finished the job.

CHARGE AGAINST SOLDIERS

Two Girls of Allentown, Pa., Allege They Were Assaulted.

Allentown, Pa., June 22.—Two members of the Washington, D. C., unit of the U. S. army ambulance corps encamped on the Allentown fair grounds, are held in the guard house facing both military court-martial and criminal prosecution for alleged attacks Wednesday night upon Laura and Mary Heimbach, sisters, aged 17 and 19 years, respectively, of Rittersville. The prisoners are Andrew Eliphalet and Allen Bunce; both are said to be wealthy.

According to the story of the Heimbach girls, they met the soldiers at the park and accepted an invitation to ride home in the army automobile. When they reached a lonely spot in the road, the girls assert they were attacked. The older girl alleging that she was grasped by the throat and strangled, then thrown out of the machine. Her sister jumped from the automobile and escaped. Both were picked up after wading through wet grain fields, by passing motorists and were taken home, where they are in a serious condition. Later the local police arrested Eliphalet and Bunce and turned them over to the military authorities.

WEARING BELGIANS DOWN.

Cardinal Mercier Writes of Effect of German Oppression.

New York, June 22.—Belgium's resisting power is slowly being crushed by German oppression, according to a letter received from Cardinal Mercier, archbishop of Malines, which was made public yesterday by the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity parish.

The Cardinal's letter was an acknowledgement of resolutions adopted by the Churchmen's Association here last January, expressing sympathy and support for the Belgian cause. The letter reads:

"The appreciation you show our efforts to stem the tide of unrighteousness, which more and more tends to overcome the stubborn and just resistance of our people to all the wrongs wantonly inflicted upon them bears us up in our struggle. Constant gratitude flows from our hearts in recognition both of the moral support which you all in America hold out to us in our trial and the no less lavish material aid so generously extended to us by the Commission for Relief in Belgium."

GERMANS BROUGHT IN

Large Number From Sea Raider, Either Sunk or Captured, Reach American Port.

An Atlantic Port, June 22.—That a large number of Germans from a sea raider, either sunk or captured at sea, were brought into an American port yesterday by a British steamer, was the report brought ashore by a government agent yesterday afternoon. The government agent at the port in question declined to divulge any details when questioned by newspaper men. Further inquiry found all information channels closed tight, and nothing further than the original report could be learned.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

John Nosik, just back from serving a workhouse sentence for beating his wife, killed her with a knife and hammer and then cut his own throat yesterday in Cleveland, Ohio.

Following a quarrel over household accounts yesterday in Buffalo, Mrs. Bert Maxim murdered her husband with an axe as he lay sleeping, and then hanged herself in the cellar of their home.

T. G. Mahan, 60, a retired United States army sergeant who had spent thirty years in the service of Uncle Sam, shot and killed himself yesterday in Atlanta, Ga., because of a dread that his two sons might have to go to war and be slain. Mahan has a daughter living in Washington.

Four little children and Timothy Ryan, a bartender, were killed yesterday when a Big Four train crashed into an automoible near Terre Haute, Ind.

Emma Goldman, indicted yesterday in New York with Alexander Berkman on a charge of conspiring in the anti-draft legislation, put up $25,000 cash bail in the afternoon and was released. Her certified check was refused by Federal officials. Both defendants pleaded not guilty.

Rich Barrett, 41, a stationary engineer of New York, and well known as an amateur boxer, shot and killed his wife, Mary, 39; his son, Kilton, 4, and his baby, Donald, 18 months old yesterday, and then committed suicide by slashing his throat with a razor. He had quarreled with his wife over money matters.

A forest fire has swept El Vado, a town in northern New Mexico, from the map. About 500 men were imperilled in the big lumber mills in El Vado.

Confirmation of the raising of the allied blockade of Greece reached the State Department yesterday in a cable dispatch. The blockade has caused widespread suffering throughout Greece and was the most potent weapon in the hands of the allies in overthrowing King Constantine. The information also was accepted as disproving rumors that the new King Alexander had declared he "would follow the policies" of his father.

The $3 silk stockings that pretty Jessie Shepherd flashed on Yale students who visited her manicure shop in the Hotel Taft, New Haven, Conn., formed one of the incidental attractions that won the heart of Mills H. Husted, wealthy young collegian. But after she became Mrs. Husted, she testified in a suit for divorce, she was "humiliated by having to wear 25-cent cotton ones" along with $6 petticoats. Husted is said to be ready to spring a letter from a prominent Bridgeport business man, married, to his bride, congratulating her on her "fortunate marriage" and asking her to keep in touch with him so he could see her when he wanted to.

A gang of 12-year-old "blood and thunder" novel readers and movie "bad men" worshippers were yesterday declared by police at Chicago to be the murderers of David Srery, junk dealer, whose skull was crushed with a baseball bat when he refused to give up the $13 in his pockets. Witnesses told that they saw three boys, all in short trousers, stop Srery. One swung a baseball bat as he talked. Five minutes later Srery was found, propped up against a barn, blood streaming from his head, a broken bat beside him. He survived long enough to tell police that two boys held him while a third wielded the bat when he refused to give up his money.

These are Italy's peace terms as announced in the chamber of deputies yesterday by Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister: Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro must be restored. Italy's frontiers must be fully secured against attack. Poland must be made independent. All terms previously announced by the entente must be fulfilled. Baron Sonnino added a recommendation of independence for Albania on the basis of the people of nationalities as set forth by President Wilson.

A guard was stationed over the German and Austro-Hungarian consulates in Geneva yesterday as a result of the attacks made upon them Wednesday by an enraged crowd of Swiss. The attacks were inflamed by the disclosure of a German plot to use Swiss statesmen as tools in arranging a separate peace with Russia. It is reported from Lugano that the Swiss there are decidedly cool to former King Constantine, of Greece, brother-in-law of the Kaiser.

Beginning next Monday the housewives of Washington who depend upon the bakeries for the staff of life will have to adopt a new method of buying: they will have to order their bread in advance. In other words, the woman who wants two loaves of bread Monday, one Wednesday, one Thursday, and two Saturday, will have to tell her baker or grocer just what her wants will be. Otherwise the baker or grocer will not be able to supply her, for on Monday a new ruling against the return to the master bakers of stale, unsold bread will go into effect, and the grocers and other retail supply sources will buy only what they have orders for.

THE POLISH REVOLT

Czechs and Slavs Upheld in Demands for Kingdoms.

Amsterdam, June 22.—Count Clam-Martinici, the Austrian premier, who resigned last week, has been asked by Emperor Charles to form a new cabinet. He devoted all of Wednesday to this work, according to the Vienna Fremdenblatt.

Interest centered mainly in conferences of Polish leaders, who demanded that no member of the ministry of the late premier, Count Karl Stuergkh, belong to the new cabinet. This the premier is said to have accepted. The Poles further insisted that Polish membership in the cabinet continue.

An unusual feature of the day was a joint meeting of south Slavs and Czechs with representatives of the Latin races for the purpose of common action. The newspapers believe the difficulties between the Poles and the government will be overcome.

Berne, June 22.—The movement which has resulted in the downfall of the Austrian cabinet bears all the earmarks of a revolution in its incipiency, according to private advices received from Vienna.

While the previous account of Count Clam-Martinici's resignation was the opposition of the Polish nationalists, it was pointed out that this party is supporting the Czechs in their demand for a separate kingdom of Bohemia, and those of the Slavs, who are demanding a separate southern principality created out of Austria's dominions. Thus three formidable movements for secession are joined in one powerful anti-government plan.

Proceedings in the reichsrath last week, heretofore suppressed, were reported yesterday to have included very frank speeches by the Poles and Czechs. The Poles declared they demanded "a united and independent Poland, not the farcical kingdom of Poland which Germany and Austria have pretended to create."

TAKES RIVER STEAMERS

Wakefield and W. L. Davis Now Being Used by the Government.

Two river steamers have lately been chartered by the government for service to the army posts on the river and to the new training camps being established. The steamer Wakefield, belonging to the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company, has taken the place of the army steamer Capt. A. M. Wetherill on the route between Washington and Fort Washington and Fort Hunt. The Wetherill is at the navy yard, being overhauled.

The steamer W. L. Davis belonging to E. Madison Hall and others of Washington, has gone into service after being under repairs for several months and is making daily trips from Washington to the Engineer Battalion camp at Belvoir, near Mount Vernon, and to the new training camp now under construction at Quantico, Va.

The steamer Majestic, which was temporarily in service under charter to the naval authorities while the steamer St. Johns was under repairs, has returned from Norfolk and resumed her place on the route to Nomini and Lower Machodoc creeks. The St. Johns is doing transport duty on Chesapeake bay.

FIRES ON LIFEBOATS

German Submarine, After Sinking Steamer, Kills Eight Survivors.

Paris, Wednesday, June 22.—A German submarine which torpedoed a British steamer turned its guns on the lifeboats and killed eight of the occupants, the admiralty announced today.

"One of our patrol boats of the Britanny flotilla," the statement says, "picked up 50 men belonging to a submarined British steamer and drove off with its guns two submarines which were still close to the boats in which the British crew had taken refuge the night before. A patrol boat of the same flotilla saved 40 men from a British steamer. The submarine which torpedoed her turned its guns on the lifeboats, killing eight of the occupants."

"The commander asked our captain the name of the ship, which was British, and her destination. When this was given the submarine crew laughed and jeered and made off.

"The American craft came up at what seemed like express train speed. All our boats were able to keep pretty well together, so that the task of getting us on board was quickly accomplished."

Base of the American flotilla in British Waters, Wednesday, June 20. —"We owe our escape from a watery grave to the bravery of your men," was the parting word of the second officer of a rescued British merchant crew to the commanding officer of an American destroyer which arrived here this morning with the survivors.

The destroyer was able to find one boatload of nineteen men. A second boat, containing eighteen men, is missing and it is feared has been lost. Six members of the engine room crew were killed when a torpedo struck the ship without warning several hundred miles from the nearest land.

GIRL SHOOTS DOCTOR.

She Then Holds Him at Bay and Wounds Self.

Waukesha, Wis., June 22.—Homicide and attempt suicide followed yesterday on the infatuation of Miss Grace Lusk, pretty school teacher and prominent in the younger society set here, for Dr. David Roberts, former State veteriarian. Mrs. Roberts was the victim, and Miss Lusk, after killing Mrs. Roberts, shot herself, inflicting wounds from which she can live but a few hours.

Miss Lusk's self-inflicted wounds were the climax of a dramatic stand she made at the head of the stairs in the house where she had slain Mrs. Roberts, and with a revolver held at bay Dr. Roberts and Chief of Police Don McKay.

Leveling the revolver at the two men, Miss Lusk cried out repeatedly her love for Dr. Roberts. "I love him! I want him! I want him now!" she screamed again and again. She then shot herself.

The shooting took place in the home of Miss Bianca Mills, where Miss Lusk roomed.

RUSSIA TO FIGHT TO LAST

Ambassador Outlines Policy of New Russian Government.

Russia will fight to the last ditch; there will be no separate peace between the new republic and the Kaiser; only a lasting universal peace, without annexations or contributions, will be recognized by the Russian government.

These promises were made to the United States and the other allies of Russia yesterday by Boris Bakhmetieff, Ambassador of the new Russian government, in the first interview he was given since the arrival of the Russian mission in this country. Ambassador Bakhmetieff gave this as the policy of his government:

"The Provisional Government, rejecting, in accord wth the whole of the people of Russia, all thought of separate peace, puts it openly as its deliberate purpose the promptest achievement of universal peace; such peace to presume no domination over other nations, no seizure of their national property nor any forced usurpation of foreign territory; peace with no annexation or contributions based upon the free determination by each nation of its destinies.

"Being fully convinced that the establishment of democratic principles in its internal and external policy has created a new factor in the striving of allied democracies for durable peace and fraternity of all nations, the Provisional Government will take preparatory steps for an agreement will her allies founded upon its declaration of March 27. The provisional Government is conscious that the defeat of Russia and her allies would be the source of the greatest misery.

"The Provisional Government is convinced that the revolutionary army of Russia will not allow the German troops to destroy our allies on the western front and then fall upon us with the whole might of their weapons".

Petrograd, June 22.—Following the action of the duma, the all-Russian Congress of Workmen and Soldiers adopted a resolution yesterday calling for an immediate offensive against the Austro-German armies.

The above dispatch is regarded as highly important, for some of the leaders of the organization had previously opposed a continuation of the war.

ANXIOUS TO FIGHT

Mexicans Present Themselves at American Consulate and Offer Their Services.

Mexico City, June 22.—That the sentiment among many of the Mexican people is in favor of the United States in the war with Germany, was made manifest yesterday afternoon when a large number of Mexican citizens presented themselves at the American Embassy asking that they be enrolled in the American army for the fighting on European fronts.

El Universal, the most prominent newspaper in Mexico, yesterday printed statements from twenty-three prominent civilians of Mexico advocating severance by Mexico of relations with Germany, and asserting that Mexico's place in the war is on the side of the entente allies.

Headlines of the article in which the statements are incorporated say it is to the interest of Mexico to sever relations with Germany, and that the Latin-American ideals of Mexico must incline her to the side of the allies rather than toward ideals of pan-Germanism, absorption and militarism, as expressed by Germany.

The statements show close unanimity of opinion. Some go so far as to say that to uphold the ideals of justice which actuate Mexico the country should immediately declare war on Germany.

Others assert that German intrigues in Mexico offer ample reasons for severing diplomatic relations, adding that Germany is endeavoring to provoke trouble between Mexico and the United States.

Some of the statements say Germany cannot deceive Mexico by offers of money and land and loans, nor by the prospect of recovering portions of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

"DIVINE RIGHT OF KINGS."

Constantine Says He is Not Obliged to Bow to the Will of the People.

Saloniki, June 22.—"I am not obliged to bow to the will of the people. I am responsible only to God."

King Constantine of Greece made this statement to his premier, Elutheros Venizelos, when the latter insisted that the will of the Greek people be recognized and Greece's treaty with Serbia be fulfilled.

Constantine, now deposed, is an exile in Switzerland. Venizelos, president of the Greek provisional government, and a power in Greek affairs, revealed the complete adherence of Constantine to the theory of the divine right of kings, in a statement this week. It was an explanation of the reforms the Greek people will demand in accepting Alexander, Constantine's second son, as King.

Venizelos declared the Greek people were willing to "make another experiment in constitutional monarchy, but will hold that the constitution must be revised."

In telling for the first time the details of the interview between himself and Constantine at the time of the Greek crisis, Venizelos said:

"The Greek people desire that the Greek King may never be able again to say to the head of the responsible government as Constantine said to me 'that he is responsible only to God.'

"The abdication of King Constantine, constituting as it did a triumph in Greece of democratic ideas, was from our viewpoint a necessary condition to a sincere renewal with Serbia of the bonds of the alliance contained in the treaty torn up by our fallen monarch," he continued.

BISHOP KILGO GOES ABROAD.

Will Hold Conferences for the Methodists in China, Japan and Korea.

Durham, N. C., June 22.—Bishop John C. Kilgo, of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church, goes to China, Japan and Korea to hold conferences for the Methodist denominations for four months. His resignation as president emeritus and chairman of the board of trustees of Trinity College will hang on file in deference to the constitution of the college, which places the power to call special sessions in the hands of the chairman The bishop tendered his resignation because the class of 1917 refused to apologize for resolutions drafted against him when he reprimanded the class for hoisting a class flag in the place of the American flag.

GERMANY ANXIOUS.

Entrance of the United States Into the War Causing Great Uneasiness.

Paris, June 22.—Jules Gambon, secretary of the ministry of foreign affairs, declared that the entrance of America into the war had caused serious unrest in Germany, in the course of an interview with a correspondent. He said:

"In the hearts of the French people who welcomed Gen. Pershing there was first of all the desire to reply to the enthusiastic reception which the American people gave the French delegates, but there was also something else equally important. A feeling of serious unrest was caused in Germany by the entry into the struggle of a country which brings to the allies, together with its entire strength, a freshness and ardor which have not been diminished by three years of war.

"Germany feels that the Americans, once engaged in the struggle, will not give up. It is to prevent this cementing of close ties that it is multiplying its efforts to spread dissension among the allies.

"The incident of the Swiss socialist Grimm's intrigue in Russia reveals Germany's handiwork and is one of the straws showing how uneasy and troubled Berlin is because of America. In France every one realizes that this uneasiness and fear are justified."

FRENCH COME BACK

Make Counter Offensive and Retake Lost Ground.

London, June 22.—It was with the aid of 20,000 men, just brought to the west from the Russian front, that the Germans Wednesday struck their surprise blow against the French Laon.

The Paris war office, elaborating on Wednesday's admission of the reverse, said the Teutons succeeded in penetrating the French first lines at two points south of the Mont des Singes and north of Moisy Farm.

The French "came back" today, however. Early in the morning they stormed forth in a determined counter offensive and retook part of the 400-metres strip lost last night south of the Mont des Singes. They found the ground littered with Teuton dead indicating heavy losses suffered by the Crown prince's troops. Fifty prisoners were taken by the French today.

WOMEN REAPPEAR.

Picketers Again Forced to Relinquish Their Banners at White House.

Members of the National Woman's party again yesterday endeavored to demonstrate the fitness of women for the ballot by displaying unpatriotic banners at the gates of the White House. Twice the picketing women were forced to relinquish the banners and witness their destruction by angry citizens.

Undaunted, after the police in the afternoon, stripped their banners to prevent a third riot, the women last night produced another set of banners and will fly them today. These, however, bear modified inscriptions. They quote President Wilson's speech to Congress.

After the second riot, which was attended by probably 2,000 persons, a party of business men of the city hastened to the office of District Attorney Laskey and urged that arrests be made as a means of stopping scenes which are regarded not only as disgraceful, but as hurtful and embarrassing to the country, now engaged in a fight for existence.

VIRGINIA NEWS

John M. Miles, editor of the World-News of Roanoke, is charged with assault on Wilbur H. Adams, a teacher in one of the public schools of Roanoke. Adams resented an editorial article by Miles, it is alleged, and went to see the latter. There were words, and Miles asked Adams to apologize. Adams grabbed him by the arm and Miles picked up a pair of shears and slightly scratched him.

Robert Jones and Hamilton Cosby, negroes, who shot and killed a policeman while resisting arrest after robbing a store at Charlottesville last March, have been electrocuted in the penitentiary in Richomnd. Jones confessed his share of the crime.

Harvesting a county's potato crops is the latest task that 2,000 boy scouts of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Richmond, or any other city will have undertaken. In Accomac County there are more than 40,000,000 bushels of potatoes that may rot in the ground unless a large force of harvesters take the job in hand. So the Boy Scouts have come to the rescue. More than ninety boys from the District of Columbia will leave tonight at 6:30 on the Norfolk and Washington line for Cape Charles. There will be two camps of the Washington contingent. Parents need have no fear for their boys while away, for Gov. Stuart has taken every precaution to guard against everything detrimental to the health of the youngsters. The inhabitants of the township to which the band is bound to have many entertainments in store for the harvesters.

Frank Coffey, Stuart Draft, Augusta county, swore he was 21 years old when he was married in Harrisonburg last week. When he returned home he landed in jail because he failed to register on June 5. Coffey now says he is not sure of his age, but since he put 21 on the marriage license and in order to get out of jail, he is willing to register.

The Rev. R. Allan Castleman, rector of the Episcopal Church at Elkridge, Md., has accepted a call to Falls Church. He will take charge July 1.

LINER CECILIE IS SEIZED.

U. S. Shipping Board to Repair Craft at Cost of About $110,000.

Boston, June 22.—The North German Lloyd Kronprinzessin Cecilie, in port here since early in the war, was seized yesterday by the collector of customs for the United States Shipping Board which will put her in seaworthy condition. The seizure was formal, the collector's men merely relieving deputy marshals in charge of the vessel since February, for the Federal court, before which was pending suit for damages instituted against the owners by two New York banks.

Experts have reported to the court that it would cost about $110,000 to repair damage to the Cecilie caused by her crew under orders from Captain Charles Polack, her commander.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Samuel Simmons, his wife, Mrs. Hannah Simmons, their son, Ward Simmons, aged 7, and George Foster, a farmhand, were instantly killed last night when their automobile was struck by a Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington train at Elkton, Md. The safety gates at the railroad crossing are said to have been up. The automobile was whirled through the air and the occupants of the car were horribly mangled. Foster's body was carried on the pilot of the locomotive for nearly half a mile.

Two men were killed outright, one died a few hours later and ten others were hurt yesterday, when a Pennsylvania Railroad train, running between South Amboy and Jamesburg, N. J., crashed into a bus filled with workmen on their way to the E. I. du Pont de Nemours works at Parlin.

Alfred Cocchi, wanted by the New York authorities for trial on the charge of murdering Ruth Cruger, 17-year-old school girl, was arrested at Bologna by Italian authorities yesterday.

According to the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, the Breslau socialist newspaper Volkswacht has been suppressed for protesting against air raids on London, in which women and children were killed.
